Speakers:

Michael Bailey – TCCI Chief Executive Officer

Russell Kelly – Manager, nbn™ metro Tasmania

Brendan Donohue – nbn™ Executive GM – Business Sales

Our ability to adapt to circumstances and to innovate is being tested to the extreme during the COVID-19 pandemic. nbn infrastructure and connectivity for your business matters, as does an awareness of technology and digital trends, and how to get the technological support you need for your business

In association with the Tasmanian Chamber of commerce and Industry, nbn presents a webinar on surviving in a digital environment and keeping your business connected.

TCCI Chief Executive Michael Bailey will be joined by special guests nbn Co Executive General Manager Brendan Donohue and nbn local manager Russell Kelly to discuss the role of nbn infrastructure and technology in the COVID-19 recovery.

Going digital remains a fundamental requirement for business and continues to provide opportunity to create new or modify existing business models, reinvent core processes, improve efficiency, drive productivity, and get closer to your customer. This webinar will explore the challenges of the COVID-19 recovery, what connectivity and technology mean for your business and how to ultimately thrive in a digital environment.
